MEMBER FEATURE

I find figures and landscapes equally captivating and utilize both in my paintings. Just about the time I finish a figurative piece I seem to have the desire to paint a landscape, and vice versa. Sometimes I combine the two.

Painting is my passion and my spiritual connection to nature and creation. I loosely describe my style as painterly realism. Usually, my goal is to tell a simple story with paint and I try to give the paint a voice by letting it show itself. Each new painting is special, from the exciting discovery of a new subject, through decisions about light, surface, composition, drawing, color and paint application.

Brad Lethaby was born in Erie, PA in 1955. He studied illustration at Columbus College of Art and Design, and received a BFA Degree in 1978. He worked as an illustrator/designer for a toy company in Winter Park, Florida, an art studio in Chicago, IL and a printing shop in Erie. During the following years Brad started his own illustration and design business and in 2000 began painting full time.

Brad is a member of the NPAA.

Let's talk about the NPAA. How do I become a member?

Let's talk about the NPAA. How do I become a member?

To sustain our membership roles and introduce the NPAA to the public at large, this full color trifold brochure talks about the organization, its history, its mission and most importantly, how to become a member. It will be a featured general marketing tool at upcoming events and exhibits.

A special thank you to Erie Insurance for their generous effort to print this brochure.
